

10 ways to succeed with zero talent

1. Be on Time

Honor others by respecting their time.
Earning respect starts by giving it.

2. Show Up and Do the Work

If they praise you, show up and do the work. If they criticize you, show up and do the work.

If no one even notices you, just show up and do the work. Just keep showing up, doing the work, and leading the way.

3. Give Your Best In All That You Do

It doesn't matter what everyone else is or isn't doing. Focus on your contribution every day. When you give your best, you'll inspire others to give their best too.

4. Be Positively Contagious

Your attitude is contagious. Choose to be Vitamin C today. Look for opportunities to encourage and uplift those around you.

5. Have an Attitude of Gratitude

Every day, we have the power to choose gratitude and positivity or let negativity steal our joy. The decision is yours.

6. Seek Solutions vs. Dwelling on Problems

How you see the world determines the world you see. When you seek solutions you see a world of possibilities and are able to overcome challenges.

7. Have Passion

Passion fuels your purpose. The strongest may survive but it is the passionate that will thrive. Get excited today!

8. Be Coachable

Stay humble and hungry and be a lifelong learner. The best of the best are always striving to get better and so should you.

9. Do More Than What's Required

Average effort generates average results. If you want more, do more. Even a little extra each day can create big results over time.

10. Believe in Yourself

Stop listening to the self-sabotaging voices in your mind. Talk to yourself and feed the positive instead of listening to negative.

You matter. You are capable. You can do great things. You are here for a reason.
